I understand that the URO materials that were given to the United States Holocaust Memorial Museum were given under the following conditions:

The United States States Holocaust Memorial Museum (Museum) will provide access to the case files to bona fide scholars and researchers with the understanding that the names of the individuals in the files will not be published or otherwise made public by the researcher until 50 years after the date of the last document in the file, or until proof of the individual's death is verified by the researcher or the Museum.

Any photocopies of the material from the case files provided by the Museum to researchers will have the names of the individuals in the files deleted/inked out to protect the privacy of the individual unless the conditions stipulated in the above paragraph have been met.

Accordingly, I will adhere to these policies and promise to keep them.
